

The diagram below maps the parallel tracks of the National Environmental Policy Act (NEPA), which guides the environmental review of federal regulations and initiatives, and the steps within the Outer Continental Shelf Lands Act. Public review and comment is critical to these processes and encouraged at each step outlined below.

